

Ever since the do not call list has been in place, we have gained control of our limited time with our family. We no longer receive intrusive calls at dinner time or when we are reading to our children before bed. Please do not weaken such an effective tool for people to control the constant barrage of unwanted advertising and sales calls that exist in this country.